MINERAL RESOURCES OF WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA.—Ad Valorem.

Few of our people have any adequate idea of the vastness of the mineral wealth of Western North Carolina, nor will these ever be fully known till they are developed to the world by railroad extension. We have been shown, by Maj. J. C. Turner, Chief Engineer of the Western N. C. Railroad, specimens of marble of the most beautiful hues and of the finest texture.—The specimens we have seen include pure white, gray, drab and flesh-colored, and all of them are susceptible of the highest polish. They exist in quantities designated by the term "mountains"; and, as mere limestone, there is a world of it. This, of itself, in a country elsewhere almost destitute of lime, is no small consideration. Besides this marble we were shown specimens of "silver ore," as it is termed, which contains a very large per centage of silver in combination with lead, and of which there is an abundance. But the greatest metallic wonder of the West is in its copper mines. The samples of black oxide, yellow sulphate, &c., we were shown no scientific eye to detect their richness. The productiveness of the Ducktown mines will show what may be expected from our Jackson mines—for Maj. Turner was assured by competent judges that there is not the slightest doubt of the Jackson mines being fully as productive as those of Ducktown. The production of a number of mines in Ducktown, by the Union Consolidated Company, for the month of February, was 85 tons of copper ore, or about 140 tons (280,000 pounds) of ingot copper.—This is worth in the general market $68,000, which after deducting $25,000 for expense of mining, smelting, and conveying to market, leaves a net income of $43,000 for a month—or at the rate of over half a million a year.—This is from only a few of the mines. What the aggregate yield and profit of the Ducktown mines is, we have as yet no means of ascertaining. So it will be of the Jackson mines of this State. And so important a consideration is this in a commercial point of view, that all the neighboring States are using their utmost exertions to connect with our Western borders by lines of railroad. It remains to be seen whether this great wealth, if there was no other in prospect, will be permitted to pass from us or around us, instead of coming through our State to strengthen and enrich us.

In this connection we call the attention of the Western people to the following article which we clip from the columns of the Franklin Observer of the 23d ult:

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA RAIL ROAD.—The experimental survey on this road from the Swannanoa to Ducktown, is progressing very satisfactorily. The Engineers are going up Nantahala river and report verbally that thus far the route is the best. It connects with the Little Creek mountain; and that is not a serious one in a mountainous country.

The money already appropriated will bring this road nearly forty miles this side of the mouth of Swannanoa river and through a country which is as delightful in summer as any in the world. And if the plan of ad valorem taxation be adopted, and we say that without reference to its just condition, as we took our stand on this subject, we will go on to the next work, pay the interest annually and create a sinking fund which will discharge the principal before the thirty years expire. And this will be a financial plan worth more to the State than all the political maneuvering that has ever befallen the old North. Let us insist upon this view of this question. Not so much because the West deserves a liberal and equitable plan of taxation; (though we have a good right to insist upon this state of the case) but because this extension, rather than the route down the French Broad, will largely enhance the State's stock in the roads now constructed. For it will stand out as a great feature and feeder for the travel from the great West. And this too without an elbow of South which may so increase the distance as to prevent our road from competing with Virginia.

We want the Eastern people to consider these things. In completing projects of improvements, all the facts ought to be made known, so that farther outlays may be made with the best prospect of a speedy remuneration. This extension route is a candidate for public favor. We hold it up as the best route for the State and trust the Company will adopt and the Legislature ratify the route to Ducktown.

We ask the particular attention of our Western brethren, and of the friends of internal improvements everywhere, to the sentence above printed in Italics. Now whether this doctrine be that of false friends or the result of ignorance it is equally dangerous and absurd. The position is to raise a few millions of money—that is all. How? By grinding it out of the Eastern slaveholders. And then it is coolly thought the slaveholders of the East will deliberately complete the Western extension, in the face of the fact that three-fourths of its cost will have to come out of their own pockets—and this, too, in full belief that at so distant day the Danville or some other such connection will be made, by which the East will not merely lose all possible benefits that may result from Western roads, but will have the roads in her own section, and her seaports, completely paralyzed! Did ever folly or recklessness go farther. Do the Western people not know that if we saddle the great bulk of taxation on the East, all our hopes of Western extension and railroads generally are blasted forever? Can we imagine the Eastern people to be such a consummate set of fools as to vote appropriations they themselves must meet, without any possible direct advantage to them? We tell the people of the West that the hour which sees the "plan of ad valorem taxation" of the Opposition adopted, is it understood and advocated by Western members of that faction—that hour seals the doom of railroads in the West or elsewhere in this State. With the additional taxation, proportionate representation—political power—must also go to the East, for taxation and representation must go together.

Is the West prepared to abandon her railroads—in her prepared to relinquish any of the power she now has in the Legislature? Can she afford to do it? Can she possibly make better terms for the construction of her roads than to pay one dollar if the East pays two? Yes, saddle the East with the additional burdens spoken of by the Franklin Observer, and Ducktown will have ample time to become a magnificent city before she ever bears the roar of a locomotive on the Western extension; yes, and the French Broad river will have spread herself to the dimensions of an ocean, or become less than a rivulet, before her echoes shall be wakened by the fiery train.

We trust our Western friends will pay no sort of attention to such stuff as this of the Observer from any source. All we ask of them is to apply their good common sense to the matter, and to ask themselves honestly if what we have here said of this matter is not reasonable and true—Let the Western people remember that in the proposition of the Opposition, as given by the Franklin Observer, they have nothing to gain—everything to lose—for if they lose the chance they now have of completing the railroad, they may give up all hope of advancement. This proposition does not contemplate a reduction of taxes—the West—it goes for piling them up on the people of the East. We have shown that it is folly to expect the East to vote money for our works so long as they will be compelled to pay it, in violation of Constitutional guarantees and in total disregard of her paying as she now does a largely disproportionate share of the aggregate cost of our railroads. We ask our Western friends to look well to their own interests. We can appeal to them if the Democratic party has not shown itself the friend of the West, and if the East has not acted in good faith and in a liberal spirit also? And if these things be so, will the West abandon her Democratic friends—will the West alienate herself from the East, Will the West be a party to stirring up bitter sectional strife—a strife which may never see the end of? The East is calm and cool—she patiently awaits the verdict of the West on the question submitted for their decision. And the voice to be heard in August must come in unmistakable tones to all the friends of Western railroads—the Wilmington, Charlotte and Richmond road included. Let us speak justly, and let us tell our Opposition friends of the West, and elsewhere, that we prefer the prosperity of our section to the chance of a petty political victory—that we prefer integrity and good faith above all things.

The Watchman says the Democratic press of the State will not act fairly in regard to the management of our railroads. Why, does the reader think? Because "they shield the Democratic officials of these roads in every possible way, against assault, whether the attacks proceed from individuals or legislative committees." We are glad to get this admission from our neighbor. Not long since we incurred the displeasure of a contemporary for saying that assaults had been made upon Mr. Fisher—attacks, violent attacks. Our neighbor admits that assaults have been made by individuals and legislative committees. Yes, and these assaults on Mr. Fisher have been unjust and cruel. And does not our neighbor admire the spirit which prompts the Democratic press to "shield" these men from assault? Is it not something devilish to be eternally assailing a man, in his public and private relations, simply because he differs with us politically or because he holds an office which we would like to occupy? The Watchman further says the Democratic press show but one side of the question affecting these officials. Now we "shield them from assaults," as you observe, neighbor. There is no need for us to show either side of the question—both being so fairly and disinterestedly shown by a portion of the Opposition press!

And the plan of ad valorem taxation to which we say that without reference to its just condition, as we took our stand on this subject, we will go on to the next work, pay the interest annually and create a sinking fund which will discharge the principal before the thirty years expire. And this will be a financial plan worth more to the State than all the political maneuvering that has ever befallen the old North. Let us insist upon this view of this question. Not so much because the West deserves a liberal and equitable plan of taxation; (though we have a good right to insist upon this state of the case) but because this extension, rather than the route down the French Broad, will largely enhance the State's stock in the roads now constructed. For it will stand out as a great feature and feeder for the travel from the great West. And this too without an elbow of South which may so increase the distance as to prevent our road from competing with Virginia.

We want the Eastern people to consider these things. In completing projects of improvements, all the facts ought to be made known, so that farther outlays may be made with the best prospect of a speedy remuneration. This extension route is a candidate for public favor. We hold it up as the best route for the State and trust the Company will adopt and the Legislature ratify the route to Ducktown.

We assure the Fayetteville Observer that in stating the fact of its not having hoisted the name of Mr. Pool we had not the remotest wish to misrepresent it, or to make the impression that it was opposed to that gentleman. It would have been folly in us, and in the fact of our coterminous with him, to do so. We did not believe there was a man present who did not believe that the Watchman was not the death of the cause; and that era many more moves remain to be made before succor again—Now we have the Watchman at our Ferry. I stated that it would be made, and he affirms rest. That those of you who are ready to imitate Stephens, this only need be said: "Be prepared, vier time; are you long will be called?" For I tell you, men of Ashtabula, that the strangling of John Brown was not the death of the cause; and that era many more moves remain to be made before succor again—Now we have the Watchman at our Ferry. For the Barber.
One would imagine from the way the Opposition press seems to be exercised over Judge Ellis's speech, that they never said anything "ugly" of the Democrats in their lives. They claim the privilege of calling Ellis a "knave" and a "demagogue," but think at the same time that it was very wicked of Mr. Ellis to allude to their weakness and inconsistency, although he did it in much more dignified language than they have used towards him. They seem to forget that they had just drawn up their long list of charges, which, if true, would have justified them in a rebellion, if they had one spark of the fire of their ancestors. They knew they were not so. The very first charge in the preamble, any body knows is not so. How did the Democrats meet this? Not by retaliating in the same way. There was no use for them to go outside of the truth. But they brought out a man that was capable of exposing their weakness and inconsistency. This is the head and front of Ellis's offence. It was expecting entirely too much of human nature for them to meet and exhaust the English language in heaping opprobrium on the Democrats, and then retire, and retreat for the campaign, and expect the Democrats not even to expose their inconsistencies when it could be so easily done. They should have remembered that we are men of like passions and like privileges. They will not lay still when the facts are against them. Did they expect us to lay still when the facts are on our side?

I have read several indignant remonstrances, but none of them showed where Pool ever voted a dollar for a Rail Road; neither do they chronicle any thing of his miraculous conversion, or what light shone around him—whether a lantern or not—or what voice spoke to him, or how the scales scattered from his eyes, &c. &c. No sir, it was a disagreeable punch in the ribs when Ellis controverted the circumstances of a candidate and a sworn Lawyer. Pool was under oath when he voted against ad valorem as a principle—but a candidate, free to advocate any humbug he chose, in this free country, when he came out for it.

I have not lately seen so many indignant remonstrances conveying so little information.—If Pool ever voted for any appropriations, except for his own section, let them show it—the sooner the better. The Democrats have shown that he voted against the principles of ad valorem, and the opposition contend themselves by saying it is not true that Pool “on oath, as a representative in the Legislature of the State, by his vote declared ad valorem to be wrong in principle.” If they are contented with naked assertions, the people are not.

The debate, Mr. Pryor showed that Potter had interpolated offensive language of a personal character in the report of the Lovejoy discussion on Thursday last. The colloquy was of such a character between Pryor and Potter, as to lead to the apprehensions that Pryor will challenge him.

April 12.—In the Senate, the proposition to adjourn during the session of the Convention in Charleston was withdrawn. Several bills were passed among them, to incorporate the U. S. Agricultural Society.

The House passed the Senate bill to set the titles to land along the boundary lines of Georgia and Florida. The tariff bill was taken up and discussed.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair?
Because it is the ornament God Himself provided for all our race! Reader, although the rose may bloom even brighter than the cheek, the hair is ever surpassing. The teeth, the crown of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair is snarled and shrivelled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Woods Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Poet, Thalia:

New York, April 10, 1858

Dr. Wood.—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express my entire restoration of my hair to its original color, about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your "Hair Restorative" it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable.

I am, dear sir, yours truly,
S. THALIA.

"Drysh a'r Gwyldyed."

Welsh Newspaper office, 13 Nassau St., April 12, 1858.

Prof. O. J. Wood.—Dear Sir.—Some months or six weeks ago I received a little of your Hair Restorative to try with my wife, who had failed to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a week's trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair; I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.

CHARLES CARDEW.

New York, July 5, 1858.

Prof. O. J. Wood.—With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of a dreadful and unpleasant itching so common among persons who perspire freely.

J. G. KILBY.

Prof. Wood.—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; it was first noticed when I had finished my Boston course no other. I continued using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out, and turned back to its former color. (Black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all.

J. D. HOES.

Chicago, Ill., May 1, 1858.

The Restorative is up in bottles of three sizes, viz.: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion, the small, retails for forty dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, or forty cents, more in proportion, and retails for $5.00 a bottle.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS,

For the cure of Diarrhoea, Indigestion, Nausea,

Flatulence, Loss of Appetite, or any Disturbance of the Digestive System, or the cure of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera, Malaria, &c.

In view of the fact that many of the number of those who feel themselves less subject to some of the above complaints, besides innumerable other conditions in life, which, by the assistance of a little knowledge or exercise of common sense, they may be able to regulate their health, we furnish with the following a few good tonic simples for permanent health.

In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is, certainly, that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life; for this end Dr. Hostetter has invented a simple and safe preparation, called HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which at this day is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, purifying and strengthening the system, and, among them all there is not a drop found a more healthy than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based on scientific experiments, and has attained to a degree the desirous of this great preparation in the medical scale of practice.

FEVER AND AGUE.

This trying and pestiferous disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short space of time, and rendering him physically and morally useless, can be detected and driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, any of the above symptoms, or any other disease, can be removed to any ordinary condition, producing them, if the Bitters are used as directed. And as it neither creates nausea nor affects the palate, and rendering unnecessary any change of diet or interruption to usual pursuits, but promotes sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is thus removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, are given to every physician will recommend them, and they will be unable to infallible?

Every physician in their practice, for the prevention of disease, and strengthening of the system in general, and among them all there is not a drop found a more healthy than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based on scientific experiments, and has attained to a degree the desirous of this great preparation in the medical scale of practice.

For the cure of Diarrhoea, Indigestion, Nausea,

Flatulence, Loss of Appetite, or any Disturbance of the Digestive System, or the cure of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera, Malaria, &c.

In view of the fact that many of the number of those who feel themselves less subject to some of the above complaints, besides innumerable other conditions in life, which, by the assistance of a little knowledge or exercise of common sense, they may be able to regulate their health, we furnish with the following a few good tonic simples for permanent health.

In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is, certainly, that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life; for this end Dr. Hostetter has invented a simple and safe preparation, called HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which at this day is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, purifying and strengthening the system, and, among them all there is not a drop found a more healthy than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based on scientific experiments, and has attained to a degree the desirous of this great preparation in the medical scale of practice.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS,

SALISBURY "BANNER" EXTRA.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING IN ROWAN.

GREAT GATHERING OF THE DEMOCRACY!

Ad Valorem Slain!—Panic in the Culvert!!

CHAS. F. FISHER, for the Senate.
N. N. FLEMING, } for the
Maj. N. F. HALL, } Commons.

One of the largest and most enthusiastic gatherings of the Democracy of Rowan ever seen, took place at the Court House, yesterday. We repeat, according to the testimony of the "Oldest Inhabitant," that the gathering was one of the largest ever witnessed on such an occasion; and the spirit which animated the throng was well calculated to strike panic into the K. N. culvert. And we record it with pleasure, as one of the "signs of the times," that ladies graced the meeting with their presence—an unmistakable sign that the fair sex are indignantly aroused at the proposition of the Opposition to tax their chickens, their butter and eggs. We tell the Opposition "the handwriting is on the wall," when the ladies enter the field. Stand from under!

On motion of Col. H. L. Robards, (after explaining briefly the object of the meeting.)

W. R. FRALEY, Esq., was called to the chair, and John Spelman and J. L. Lyerly, were appointed Secretaries.

On motion of Dr. A. M. Nesbitt, the following gentlemen were appointed a committee, (one from each Captain's District in the County,) to report nominations, for the Senate (in connection with the representatives of Davie) and for the House of Commons :

*Litaker's.—John Sloop,
Atwell's.—Jacob Sloop,
Mt. Ulla.—W. H. Kestler,
Neely's Mills.—James Hudson,
Wood's.—P. L. Barringer,
Hatter's Shop.—R. J. Linn,
Harkey's.—M. A. J. Roseman,
Morgan's.—Moses Lemly,
Gold Hill.—A. C. Earnhardt,
Town Company.—S. S. Trott,
Salisbury.—{ John I. Shaver,
Robt. E. Love,
Lyerley's.—J. C. McConaughey,
Miller's.—Dr. S. W. Coleman,
Lamb's.—J. P. Wiseman,*

Col. R. B. Moore, from the Central Committee of the County, reported the following resolutions, which were subsequently,

On motion of Col. Robards, unanimously adopted :

Resolved. That the Democracy of Rowan are steadfast in their adherence to Democratic principles, and hereby heartily endorse the platform adopted by the late Democratic State Convention.

Resolved. That the administration of President Buchanan has been able, eminently conservative and national.

Resolved. That the administration of Governor John W. Ellis, has met the most sanguine expectations of his friends and has secured the respect and confidence of his political enemies, and that we heartily endorse his re-nomination and pledge him our warmest support.

Resolved. That the course of our immediate representative, Hon. Burton Craige, has secured our increased confidence.

Col. Robards drew the attention of the meeting to Edward Cantwell, Esq., of Wake, who was present, and said they would be pleased to hear from him. (Loud calls for Cantwell.)

[In our paper of next week we will give a summary of the speech of Mr. Cantwell, and of that of J. M. Clement, Esq., which followed. These speeches were sterling practical discourses and elicited frequent bursts of applause.]

Robt. E. Love, Esq., from the Committee appointed to report nominations, reported that the committee recommend, with the concurrence of the County of Davie, Charles F. Fisher, Esq., for the Senate, N. N. Fleming and } for the Commons. Maj. N. F. Hall,

The nominations were received with great applause, and the report was unanimously adopted.

J. M. Clement, Esq., arose and said that as there were no delegates present from Davie he would assure the meeting that the nomination of Mr. Fisher would be quite acceptable to the Democracy of that county and would meet with their concurrence and heartiest support. He said this on behalf of the county and after consultation with other democrats present.

This announcement was loudly cheered.

On motion of Mr. Love, a committee was appointed to inform Mr. Fisher of his nomination.

Maj. N. F. Hall was loudly called for. He thanked the Democracy of Rowan for the honor they had done him in the re-nomination, and for the support that had heretofore been extended to him. Whilst he had a heart he could never forget it.—He then briefly alluded to the new Opposition hobby and to the introduction of the question into the Legislature by Mr. Bledsoe. At that time not a single Senator was found to advocate the measure—not even Mr. Pool himself. It was denounced as a hobby and Mr. Bledsoe had been charged with making a hobby of it by Eastern members. It was nothing but a hobby now—espoused and advocated by men who had voted time and again against the principle; and Maj. H. stigmatized it as carrying out the doctrine of Helper—who recommended the extermination of slavery through the means of high taxation. Alluding to the Charleston Convention Maj. Hall said he had full confidence in the national Democracy and believed everything would come out right yet. In conclusion he said he accepted the nomination and would have ample opportunities of meeting his democratic friends during the canvass.

Mr. Fleming now entered and was called for. He felt thankful for the honor of a re-nomination, which he considered an endorsement of his past conduct as a representative. He accepted the nomination cheerfully, as he considered it a high honor, and pledged himself to use all honorable efforts to secure the success of Democratic principles.

On motion the proceedings of the meeting were ordered to be published in the Salisbury Banner.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.
